

Pacific Unitarian Church

presents

Dr. Kevin McCauley's DVD

Pleasure Unwoven

Join us for a thought-provoking morning.

Pacific Unitarian Church's Addictions & Recovery Ministry is proud to bring a community screening of this DVD as part of our Speaker Series. Dr. Kevin McCauley is an expert in the field of addictions and has spoken in person before at Pacific Unitarian Church. Facilitated discussion will follow showing.

Saturday, October 23, 2010

Refreshments served at 9:30 a.m.

Screening 10:00 – 11:15 a.m., followed by discussion

Pacific Unitarian Church – Henriksen Hall

All are welcome to attend. Whether you are in recovery or not, this presentation may be helpful to you.

Is addiction a choice or a disease?

This most important question about addiction is discussed. Using the varied landscape of the Utah parks, the areas of the brain involved in addiction are described. McCauley turns complex neuroscientific concepts into easy-to-understand visual images that will help people seeking recovery feel understood, and their families and friends feel hope that recovery is possible. Discussion facilitator will be Robert Bloomfield, M.D., Board Certified in Family Medicine, and the American Society of Addiction Medicine.

Reservations are not required, but are appreciated for planning. For reservations or more information, contact John Daley, ARM Coordinator, at (310) 373-5471 or addictions@pacificunitarian.org.

Admission is free, but donations are gratefully appreciated.

Pacific Unitarian Church

5621 Montemalaga Drive
Rancho Palos Verdes, CA 90275

Phone (310) 378-9449
www.pacificunitarian.org